Next Desks

Solid built with manufacturing precision, Next executive solutions stand for functionality and robustness.

Concealed, secure compartments help you store important documents, are organizational storage units for your workspace and have a surprise effect on guests. The paint used on metal surfaces has proven its compliance to the standards; successfully passing tests which include resistance to corrosion, swelling, adhesion, impact and conical bending.

Tabletop can be placed on either two legs or a single leg and a side cabinet that houses easy-to-reach electrical connections.
