Perfect harmony of nature all over the place.

Taklamakan is named after the largest sand desert in China. Taklamakan was shortlisted to final phase in wooden furniture design contest in Asahikawa, Japan, which is a triennial organization with the motto 'Design with Love, Love with Wood'. Taklamakan delivers the harmony and flowing rhythm of nature into living spaces.

MARTA Herford

Taklamakan is named after the largest sand desert in China, and resembles sand dunes formed with a mysterious and natural harmony. Featuring alder, polycor, and lacquered options, Taklamakan brings depth and warmth to usage spaces.

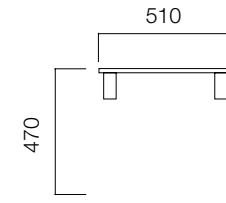

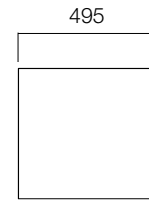

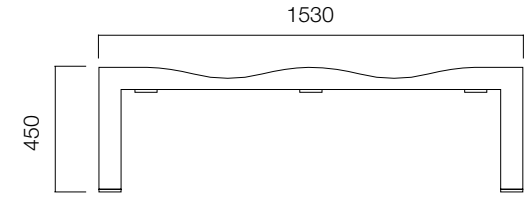

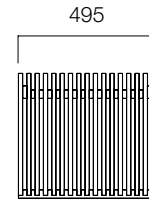

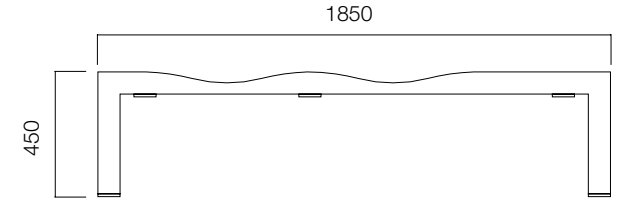

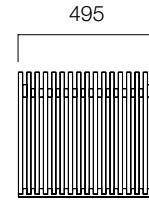

Suitable for a variety of spaces including hotels, waiting rooms, universities, cafés, and restaurants, Taklamakan was selected for permanent collection of Marta Herford Modern Art Museum in 2006.
